Coronavirus (Covid-19) Update

Please find below the seventeenth edition of our Coronavirus (Covid-19) update.

We've highlighted our support for Clean Sport Week, which is focused on keeping clean in quarantine. We have also provided an update on Sport England's partnership with Crowdfunder to launch a £2 million Covid-19 support fund.

You'll find information on the adult future competition virtual consultation sessions, this Thursday's webinar, the new Eddie Jones Coaching Podcast, an update on the Payment of Players declaration, and links to previous webinars, including Irwin Mitchell's running a virtual AGM webinar, which is now available on demand.

We continue to highlight rugby clubs' great work and today we've included a thank you message from Eddie Jones.

Please visit our dedicated web portal on the England Rugby website to access Coronavirus (Covid-19) information and updates here.

Past editions of these twice-weekly updates can be found on this part of the website. Click here if you need to find a previous edition.

RFU Headlines

Adult Male Future Competition Review – virtual consultation sessions

The virtual future competition consultation review sessions will take place via webinar during June so that we can provide further detail on the future competition structure proposals. Feedback on these proposals, and also on how to improve competitions is essential, and the virtual process will allow clubs and players to ask questions and enter a discussion forum.

The sessions will take place on the following dates from 7-9pm, unless otherwise stated, where we are running additional sessions to accommodate as many clubs as possible:

- Wednesday 3 June - Level 3/4
- Thursday 4 June - Level 5/6 (Session 1: 3pm | Session 2: 7pm)
- Monday 8 June - Level 7 and below North
- Wednesday 10 June - Level 7 and below Midlands
- Thursday 11 June - Level 7 and below London/South East (3pm)
- Monday 15 June - Level 7 and below London/South East
- Wednesday 17 June - Level 7 and below South West
- Thursday 18 June - Level 7 and below South West (3pm)

Registration details for the webinars will be communicated on Friday.

England Rugby supports Clean Sport Week from 18 – 24 May

England Rugby has thrown its support behind Clean Sport Week. This year the focus is on staying clean in quarantine. The campaign from UK Anti-Doping (UKAD) aims to educate people on the dangers of performance-enhancing drugs in sport at all levels. Click below to discover more.

There are also great videos from Tom Curry and George Furbank available on twitter, click to watch on UKAD and England Rugby.

As part of this campaign, UKAD are hosting a free-to-attend webinar from 1-2pm tomorrow, Wednesday 20 May, where athletes and coaches can discuss their roles in clean sport and how they are adapting to lockdown. Click below to register.

Update on Payment of Players declarations

Just over 60% of all clubs have started or completed their Payment of Players declaration for this season. Communications will be issued this week to those clubs who need to take action to complete and submit their declaration through GMS by Tuesday 30 June. Should you require any assistance with your GMS login details then please contact gms@rfu.com or if you need support with your declaration then email paymentofplayers@rfu.com.

Over the last few weeks, over 300 Clubs took the time to feedback on the Payment of Players regulations. We are very grateful for all of you who took the time to respond and give us your thoughts. The survey results are now being reviewed and recommendations will be made in due course.

Rugby community doing great things

The efforts of rugby clubs nationwide in supporting those in their communities who need help are making a big difference. Today we look at rugby facilities, including Twickenham Stadium, which are being used to support the NHS - read here

We've also heard some great stories about the work taking place in the rugby community to support those with mental health issues. As part of Mental Health Awareness Week, we've highlighted Lancashire Rugby Union who are providing specialist support for everyone in their member clubs through their 'Cauliflower Ear' programme - read here

England Head Coach Eddie Jones recognises the importance of the great work being undertaken, sending a thank you message about community rugby's values of respect and discipline and naming a few of the great examples evident right now. Click below to hear from Eddie.

We want to hear your stories so please share with VeeMontebello@rfu.com or PatriciaMowbray@rfu.com.
